[a] The figures for 1841, as published in Gazette, are full of errors which cannot now be corrected, and should therefore be used with great caution.

[b] The figures (Persons) for 1847 include 2246 military, women, and children; also 3739 male convicts on public works.

[c] " " 1851 " 9 " " " " 568 convicts, sex not distinguished.

[d] " " 1857 " 630 " " "

[e] The discrepancy in the number of brick and stone houses in 1870 and 1881 arises from a large number of residents in country districts failing to give definite descriptions.

* Note.—For the purpose of these Analytical Tables—and following the method adopted in Tasmania in previous censuses (1891 and 1901)—permanent inmates of asylums, invalid depôts, gaols, &c., and now dependents on public or private charity, are not included in the category of Effective Breadwinners, even though in their earlier years they had been actively engaged as Breadwinners in some pecific class of occupation.

[a] In this table deaths occurring in the Public Hospitals in Hobart and Launceston are referred to the district in which the cause of death originated. [b] This District embraces the New Town Charitable Institution, in which aged persons from all parts of the State are assembled. [c] Deaths occurring at sea or on board foreign ships in port have not been included. [d] Preventable causes embrace deaths at all ages from all causes excepting those classified as due to "Senility" or "Old Age." [e] Corrected for changes in age-distribution. [f] Indicates deaths under 1 year per 1000 births. [g] Computed in accordance with the recommendation of the Conference of Statisticians at Hobart, January, 1902, viz.—That the Age-groups be—Under 1 year, 1 to 20 years, 20 to 40 years, 40 to 60 years, 60 years and over; and that the Population of Sweden (Census 1890) be taken as the Standard. [h] The detailed rates for these divisions are omitted, as the fluctuations between single years when numbers are small give unsatisfactory results.

* Including £11,010 for carriage of mails for latest year. † There has been no increase in the rates for the carriage of goods or minerals. The apparent increase is caused by the closing of the Zeehan Smelters, to which thousands of tons of ore had been conveyed from a five-mile radius at 10d. per ton.

* Close season, July, August, September. † Close season, June, July, August, September.

Note.—There are 16 boats engaged out of Hobart. Dunalley specially fishing for the export trade. The returns for 1917 do not record such cargoes for the mainland. It is stated that large quantities of crayfish are sent away of which no account is taken by the City Council, the shortage at the Hobart market is thus explained, as higher prices are obtained outside of Tasmania.

FRIENDLY SOCIETIES: REPORT OF THE STATISTICIAN FOR THE YEAR 1917.

General Register Office,
Hobart, 6th August, 1918.

SIR,

IN accordance with the provisions of "The Friendly Societies Act, 1888," I have the honour to furnish the following Report with respect to the year 1917:—

MODEL FORMS OF ACCOUNTS AND CIRCULATION OF INFORMATION.

The usual tables disclosing the operations and state of the finances of each district and branch society which furnished returns to this office for the previous year were duly published and distributed on application.

The usual difficulties with some societies still continue as regards the lack of promptitude in forwarding returns. I am glad to say, however, that about 187 adult lodges have furnished complete statements for the current year, all of which have been carefully examined and corrected where necessary.

The following is a summary of the more important particulars relating to membership, experience, and finances of the friendly societies, as a whole, for the years 1916 and 1917.

* Increases from this date are largely caused by unusual special levies in some of the Societies.

Receipts.

Although the total membership of the societies has decreased by 347 during the year 1917, the total receipts show an increase of £4961. The falling off in contributions, consequent upon the decreased numbers, has been more than balanced by an extra £2801 raised by special levy to meet insurance premiums, and an additional £7002 received in payment of death claims for insured soldier-members.

Provision for Unemployed Sick Members.

Those who were disabled for work during 1917 absorbed £19,126, or 21·71 per cent. of total expenditure in respect of sick maintenance alone; £18,008, or 20·44 per cent., in medical expenses; £4548, or 5·16 per cent., in distress allowances, widows' and orphans' support, and other provisions, while £23,100, or 26·22 per cent., covered the disbursements in connection with funeral allowances in respect of deceased members and registered wives. Compared with last year the funeral allowances show an increase of 39·81 per cent.

These disbursements clearly distinguish the nature of the provisions of friendly societies from those of life assurance societies. In the latter the provisional benefit is generally obtained by the beneficiaries under the insurer's will. In the former the bulk of the benefits, such as sick pay, medical attendance and medicine is received during the life of a member, while, on an average, only about 20 per cent. of the total expenditure is absorbed by death payments, corresponding to the main objects of ordinary life assurance societies.

The total expenditure amounting to £88,097 is £3587 more than in 1916; and includes £11,739 for management and £11,576 for re-insurance of soldier-members.

General.

Despite the substantial benefits secured to societies through the Aid to Friendly Societies Act, which came into operation last year, the membership continues to decrease. Possibly the full effect of the Act is not yet apparent, and that as the provisions become better understood an increase in enrolment may result accordingly. It is quite probable, also, that some of the decrease is due to the fact that many youths, carried away by the war fever, are not attracted by events that do not promise excitement, and consequently omit to join a society.

The present capital of the various societies (£245,666) gives an inadequate conception of their financial importance, because the capital sum relates almost entirely to benefits accruing at death, while the bulk of benefits is distributed annually, and therefore does not enter into capital invested for the discharge of obligations consequent upon death.

A statistical summary, showing since 1892, varied particulars with respect to friendly societies' transactions is attached to this report.

Aid to Friendly Societies Act.

Briefly the transactions in connection with the Aid to Friendly Societies Act for period 1/3/17 to 30/6/18 are as follow:—

(1) In accordance with the provisions of Section 4 of the Act I certified that the various societies are entitled to receive Local Inscribed Stock amounting to £7943 6s. 6d., being one-half the liabilities of societies incurred by the death of 209 soldier-members.

(2) Under the insurance section of the Act the sum of £11,240, premiums of insurance and re-insurance of (2416 in 1917 and 1706 in 1918) members has been paid into the Treasury, and I issued certificates for the payment of £5448 11s., the death claims for 78 soldier-members.

Assessmentism and Limitation of Funeral Benefits.

Mr. Barry, Government Actuary of Victoria and Tasmania, after examining the conditions of the various friendly societies in Tasmania during the year 1911, stated that he was decidedly of opinion that no funeral benefit should exceed the limit of £20, as now adopted and fixed by law in Victoria, and he therefore recommended that the Tasmanian Act should be amended to prohibit societies from carrying on life assurance operations.

He further deprecated the practice of certain societies in Tasmania of imposing a levy on the death of a member.

The late Mr. R. M. Johnston, Government Statistician of Tasmania, pointed out by his report on Friendly Societies in 1911, that he was fully in accord with Mr. Barry's views, and he often expressed regret that no steps had been taken to deal with the subject.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your obedient Servant,

J. P. LAUGHTON,
Acting Government Statistician.

To the Hon. the Attorney-General.

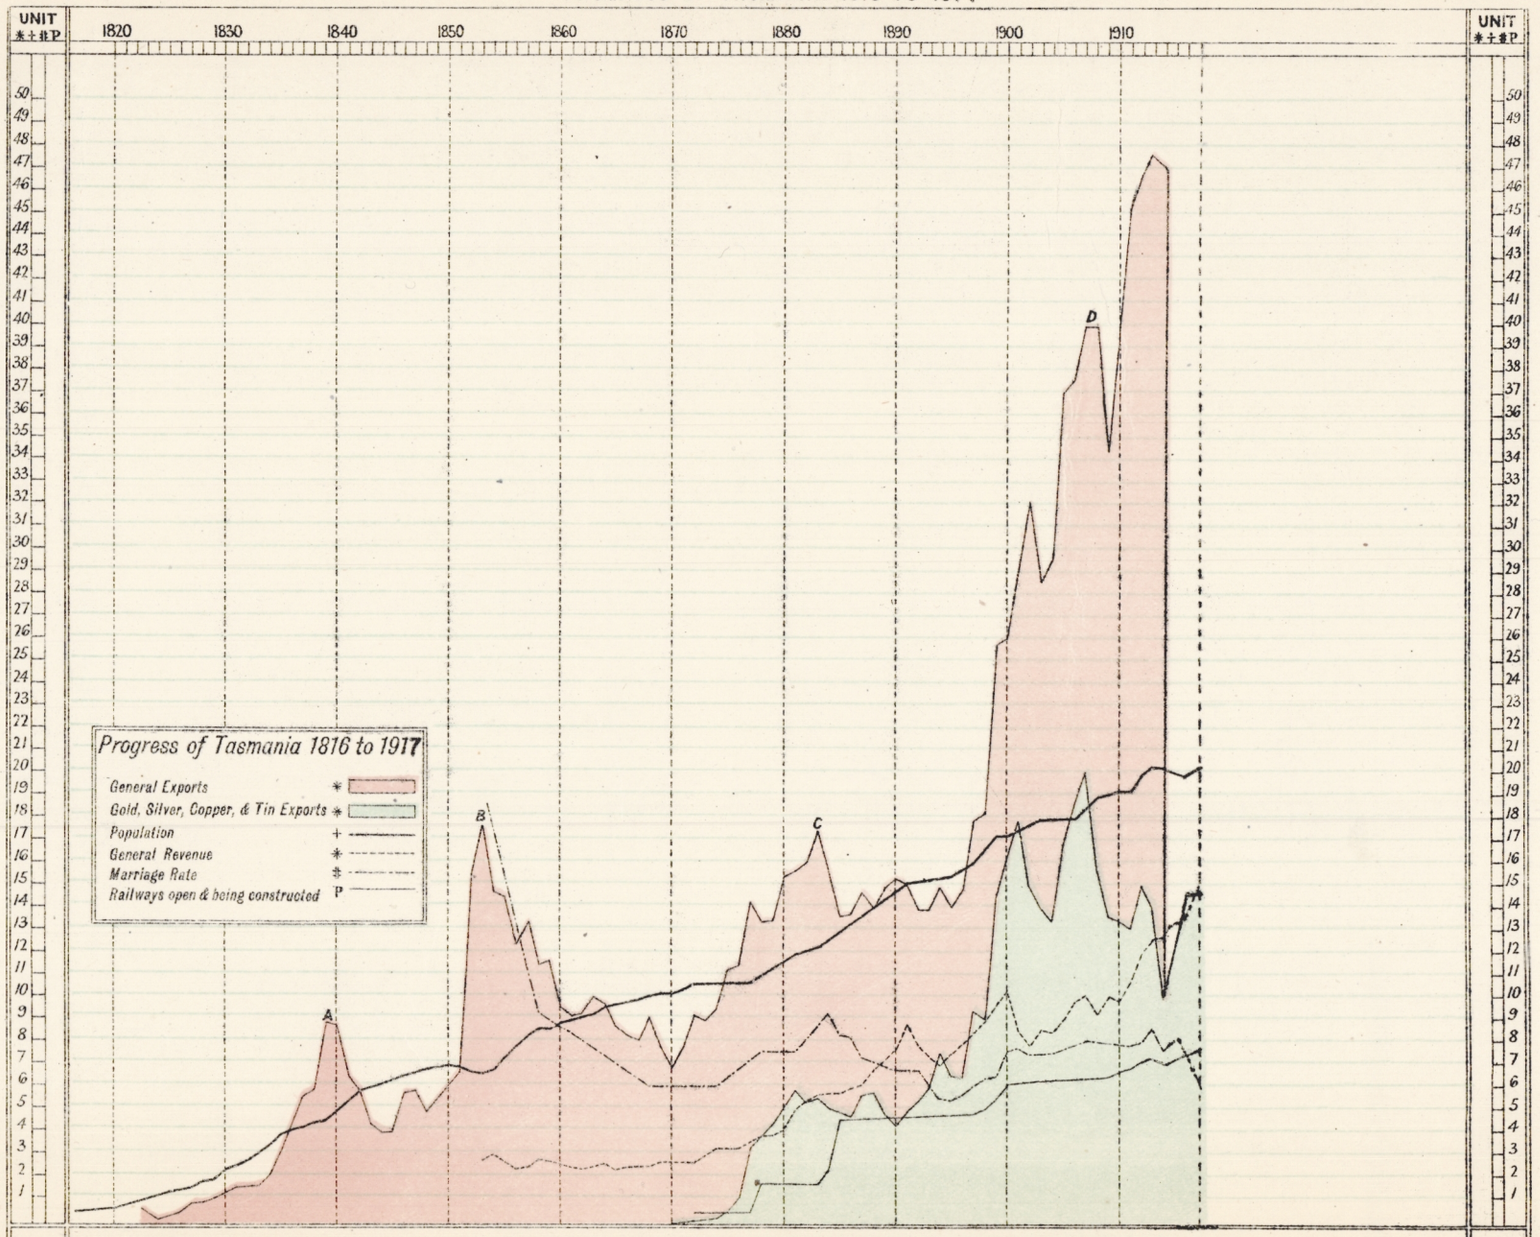
†"CONSUMABLE WEALTH."—The annual value of Consumable Wealth produced in Tasmania during the year 1913-14—by the combined agency of local labour, skill, and all other animate and inanimate auxiliary instruments of productive physical energy—is estimated to approximate to £8,750,000. This is equivalent to £106 per annum per breadwinner [includes capitalists, entrepreneurs, and wage-earners]. At 3½ per cent. this annual contribution of Consumable Wealth represents an absolute present capital value of £250,000,000. It is estimated that about one-seventh of the annual value is absorbed in the maintenance, renewal, and fresh creation of the necessary auxiliary tools and instruments of production and transport. The remaining six-sevenths are absorbed by breadwinners and their dependents, representing a sum of £7,196,243, or 5s. 9¾d. per breadwinner per working day. From an economist's point of view each breadwinner may be rightly regarded as one of the most essential instruments of production. If therefore we regard £92, as being the average annual effective claim of each breadwinner unit, it follows that each of the latter possesses an asset which, calculated at 3½ per cent., represents a capital value of £2628. ‖ Estimated. § Production (Exports not available).  Up to year 1901 the revenue of State Departments, since transferred to Commonwealth, was included.  Including (latest year £2,541,175) value of material used or worked up.

PROGRESS OF TASMANIA 1816 TO 1917



John Vail, Government Printer

NOTE.—Since 1900 Revenue collected by Commonwealth has been included.

Export not available. Production substituted for Exports since 1914.
